With solutions from across the CSR family, it's easy to turn inspiration into a cohesive, buildable outcome. Share your preferred collections and materials with your builder and start creating a home that's designed for the way you live.

Warm Whites

Grounded & Calm

This is a flexible scheme that focuses on layered warm whites and mixed materiality, creating an open and breezy look by letting the architecture take centre stage. Embrace a mixed material facade, as layering textures will create depth and interest to an all-whites palette.

Warm undertones

Try DIY techniques to add character and texture to your home. Painting over terracotta bricks can bring a warm undertone to a crisp white finish.

Pale eucalyptus outdoor seating

Contrasting finishes

Create visual interest with contrasting finishes like high-gloss paired with low sheen or weathered surfaces.

Subtle colour layering

Round out an all-white scheme with textiles or planter pots in dusty eucalyptus, light butter yellows or sandy muted hues.

Sandy planter pots

Warm Whites layers crisp whites, soft warm neutrals and natural textures to create a scheme that feels fresh, light and inviting. Subtle tonal variation brings warmth and depth, while clean lines enhance the sense of openness. Shown here on an Australian Coastal home, the Warm Whites Collection complements its relaxed forms, light-filled spaces and seamless indoor-outdoor living.

Easy Neutrals

Soft & Inviting

A scheme of minimal creamy off-whites and warm greige undertones, Easy Neutrals is sophisticated and flexible. Epitomising effortless style, its versatile pairings suit a variety of architectural styles by layering materials and textures.

Inviting materials

Keep the material choices warm and minimal by layering neutral colours, natural stone, timber and textured finishes to highlight architectural forms while maintaining a calm, contemporary aesthetic.

Sandstone textured planter

Soft forms

Balance soft and structured shapes, such as arched details and rounded joinery, with strong architectural lines to create a space that feels both refined and welcoming.

Connected spaces

Create a seamless indoor-outdoor connection with expansive glazing, recessed outdoor living areas and landscaped garden edges. Echoing the home's curved forms, these elements allow architecture and nature to flow together effortlessly.

Natural teak outdoor dining chair

Easy Neutrals combines vertical timber cladding, slimline bricks and textured render in warm, creamy neutrals.  Shown here on a Contemporary home, the Easy Neutrals Collection works well with clean lines to provide a sense of simplicity and refinement, while curved walls, arched openings, rounded joinery and sculptural furnishings introduce softness and flow.

Soft Earth

Warm & Authentic

Soft Earth blends warm terracotta with layered greys, charcoal and weathered stone for a timeless yet contemporary feel. Natural timber adds warmth and balance, creating an organic palette that sits comfortably within the Australian landscape.

Strong linear forms

Celebrate lines by emphasising low-slung rooflines, extended eaves, and strong linear forms to create a timeless, grounded aesthetic.

Black ceramic planter

Natural material mix

Mix authentic natural materials by combining brick, timber cladding, natural stone and exposed concrete in warm, earthy tones such as terracotta, walnut, charcoal and sandstone.

Integrated outdoor living

Blur the boundary between home and landscape with large windows, courtyard gardens, statement planting, and integrated outdoor living areas.

Minimalist black woven armchair

Natural materials are paired with bold geometric forms and carefully curated landscaping, creating a timeless architectural expression that feels both nostalgic and strikingly modern. Shown here on a Modernist home, the Soft Earth Collection adds warmth and contemporary character through its natural material palette.

Pure Naturals

Balanced & Simple

Pure Naturals celebrates the beauty of authentic, tactile materials and thoughtful craftsmanship. Natural timber, stone, textured render, and handcrafted finishes are layered to create a sense of warmth, balance and simplicity.

Natural materials

Combine warm timber with natural stone and tactile finishes that age beautifully. Favour honest, high-quality materials for a timeless, enduring exterior.

Layered heights

Grounded landscaping

Use layered greenery and natural materials to create a sense of calm, with simple pathways, sculptural trees and natural gravels connecting the home to its surroundings.

Simple and considered

Embrace a less-is-more approach by reducing visual clutter and focusing on a simple combination of materials, finishes and carefully considered architectural forms.

Contrasting wicker seating

Warm, natural materials and a restrained palette create an exterior that feels refined, calm and connected to nature. Shown here on an Australian modernist home, the scheme complements its minimalist architecture, delivering a refined yet welcoming home that celebrates simplicity and natural beauty.

Bold Blacks

Confident & Graphic

Bold Blacks pairs strong architectural materials with rich texture and natural warmth. Vertical cladding, natural stone and steel elements work together to highlight the home's bold forms and rural character, while tactile finishes add depth and authenticity.

Defined materials

Use strong, consistent material finishes across key architectural forms to create definition and give the exterior a clean, confident look.

Potted olive tree in biscuit planter

Touches of warmth

Add warmth with natural materials by introducing timber cladding, natural stone, or feature entry elements to soften the monochromatic scheme.

Contrasting shades

Create contrast with black & white, try pairing crisp white cladding or render with black window frames, roofing, and architectural details for a graphic, contemporary look.

Black woven bar chair

Strong architectural forms, soaring ceiling heights and glazing create a striking silhouette, while contrasting materials and colours add depth and definition to the clean, pared-back exterior. Shown here on a Barnhouse style home, the Bold Blacks Collection layers dark finishes and varied textures to create a simple yet striking exterior.

Fresh Greys

Classic & Effortless

This scheme combines cool white weatherboard cladding, soft charcoal roofing, and natural whitewashed stone. White trim and warm timber detailing enhance the architectural character, while dark charcoals and mosaics add a refined contrast. The result is a timeless, light and sophisticated aesthetic.

Timeless textures

Combine weatherboard cladding with natural stone accents and traditional trim details to add depth, character, and enduring street appeal.

Black metal wall lantern

Outdoor connection

Incorporate a generous front verandah with traditional columns and detailed balustrading to reinforce the classic aesthetic while creating a seamless connection between the home and the outdoors.

Balanced symmetry

Create a balanced facade with centred entryways, evenly spaced windows and prominent gable features to create a timeless and elegant style.

Black woven bar stool

Cool-toned weatherboard creates a fresh, refined foundation, with intentional accents and considered detailing adding definition and character. Shown here on a Classic home, the Fresh Greys Collection uses contrasting trims, columns and defined entryways to enhance its timeless East Coast influence.

Strong Darks

Raw & Urban

The Strong Darks scheme pairs robust, architectural materials with rich texture and depth. Russet red brick, blackened steel, dark roofing, and textured concrete create a bold foundation, while natural stone accents soften the industrial edge.

Raw materials

Mix raw, honest materials by layering steel, brick, concrete, and stone to create texture and reinforce the industrial character of the home.

Black sculptural tapered planters

Clean silhouettes

Keep rooflines clean and uncluttered to showcase the bold geometry and architectural rhythm of the paired gabled structures.

Expansive glazing

Maximise glazing and scale through large industrial-style windows and expansive openings to enhance natural light, highlight volume, and strengthen the connection between indoors and out.

Black woven counter stool

A bold combination of dark brick and cladding creates depth and definition across architectural forms, geometric lines and expansive glazing. Shown here on an Industrial style home, the Strong Darks Collection uses contrasting materials and deep tones to create a confident, contemporary exterior.

Rich Browns

Deep & Complex

The Rich Browns scheme layers natural materials and tactile finishes to create warmth, depth, and a sense of understated luxury. Timber cladding, textured brick, render, and sandy muted tiles with accents of soft chestnut, creams and warm taupes, celebrating the beauty of natural variation and organic form.

Textural warmth

Combine timber, brick, textured render, and artisanal finishes to enhance warmth, depth, and the home's tactile architectural expression.

Sculptural rounded planter

Fluid forms

Incorporate rounded walls, circular openings, and softened edges to create a home that feels fluid, organic, and connected to nature.

Tonal layering

Layer chestnut, cream and warm taupe tones across timber, brick and render to create depth and celebrate natural variation.

Woven rope stool with wraparound back

Rich Browns enhance natural material choices, strengthening the home's connection to the landscape while creating a calm, immersive quality. Shown here on an Industrial style home, layered textures and tonal variation bring warmth and depth to the bold architectural form.

Warm Greys

Subtle & Timeless

Warm Greys combines tactile, architectural materials to create a look that feels refined, understated, and enduring. Textured concrete, smooth render, and brushed metal finishes are layered with warm timber accents to soften the geometric form and add depth.

Layered materiality

Combine concrete, render, brick and timber with subtle variations in texture to add depth and warmth without overwhelming the architecture.

Minimalist concrete bench

Warm grey tones

Layer soft, silver and dove greys with warmer cream or blush undertones to create a mellow, inviting exterior.

Subtle highlights

Introduce silvery highlights and gentle tonal shifts across finishes to add dimension while maintaining a refined, monochromatic feel.

Stainless steel wall light

Warm Greys combines layered textures and subtle variations in tone to create a soft, refined exterior with depth and warmth. Shown here on a Barnhouse style home, contrasting materials add richness and definition while maintaining a clean, contemporary feel.

Hidden heroes

While style often captures our attention, comfort is what shapes our everyday living experience. Our hidden heroes are the products working on or behind the walls, above ceilings and between floors, helping to improve thermal comfort and manage acoustic control throughout your home.

They're rarely the first products homeowners think about, but they're often the ones that have the greatest long-term impact. Because a home should do more than look beautiful; it should feel beautiful to live in too.

Click to learn more about the CSR hidden heroes.

Learn more

Roof Ventilation

Removes air from the roof space to help reduce heat load in warm months and condensation in cooler months.

Insulation

Forms a reliable thermal and acoustic layer that helps keep interiors comfortable, quieter and more energy efficient year-round.

Interior Linings & Flooring

Specialist wall and floor systems that improve durability, moisture and impact resistance, while helping reduce noise transfer and support acoustic comfort.

Permanent Formwork

Prefabricated walling systems ideal for applications such as basements and swimming pools.

Breezy Whites

An interior coastal scheme built around warm whites and soft, dusty blues evokes a sense of openness, clarity, and understated coastal elegance. This scheme is light, uplifting, and timeless – balancing warmth with freshness.

Open living

Focus on enhancing natural light, softening architectural lines, and connecting interiors to surrounding landscapes.

Gyprock® Symphony® cornice

Quietly refined details

Curved forms, layered textures and handcrafted details create spaces that feel relaxed yet elevated.

Blue striped linen cushion

Gentle forms

Soft Neutrals

Natural materials balance this interior scheme of warm whites and soft creamy hues, creating a space that feels calm, pure and quietly refined. The colours are subtle and understated, offering a sense of openness and serenity while maintaining a warm touch. This scheme works as a clean, timeless foundation that allows light and spatial form to take centre stage.

Timeless layers

Combine warm stone, textured walling, timber and soft furnishings in varying tonal shades to add depth and sophistication while maintaining a calm, cohesive look.

Gyprock® Concerto® cornice

Tactile materiality

Introduce tactile materials such as natural stone, leather, linen, timber and steel to give the restrained palette a rich, inviting feel.

Woven neutral cushions

Soft features

Pair curved sofas, rounded tables and soft-edged features with strong linear forms to create a look that feels modern, balanced and timeless.

Organic Earth

An earthy interior palette combining warm terracotta with soft, muted greys creates an environment that feels grounded, inviting, and timeless. Terracotta brings depth and organic richness, while soft greys introduce balance and calm. Together, they create a palette that feels both expressive and understated.

Natural textures

Soften clean architectural lines and functional layouts with rich timber finishes, natural stone, textured fabrics and handcrafted details, creating spaces that feel both refined and welcoming.

Gyprock® Alto® cornice

Curved features

Select sculptural feature pieces with soft, organic curves and handcrafted detailing to add shape and character, while keeping the overall feel relaxed and contemporary.

Curved walnut statement chair

Earthy hues

Layer terracotta, clay, sand, olive, dusty blue and warm grey tones for depth and character, enhanced by natural light and indoor-outdoor connections for a relaxed, distinctly Australian feel.
